FERNALD NAMED NEW MEMBER FHA COUNTY COMMITTEE

Lawrence E Caldwell of Turner, is the new member of the Androscoggin County Committee for the Farmers Home Administration. Mr. Caldwell is a well-known dairy farmer in this area. He is very active in Extension work and at present is a member of the Executive Board. He replaces Charles B. Tabbets of Lisbon Falls, whose term expired on July 1st.

The other two members of the Committee are Harold A. Libby of Auburn and Glen W. Torrey of Poland.

The new members of the Oxford County Committee is Erville A. Fernald of Stow. He replaces Donald W. Buzzell of Fryeburg, whose term also expired on July 1st. Mr. Fernald is also a dairy farmer and is very familiar with the problems and conditions in the section of Oxford County where he resides.

Also serving on the Oxford County Committee are Arthur L Cummings of South Paris and Martin W. Colby of Rumford Point.

There is a County Committee in every agricultural county in the country. The committee determines the eligibility of applicants and helps the county supervisor adapt the agency's policies and services to local conditions. Each member is named for a 3 year term.

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to farmers to buy, improve, enlarge, or operate efficient family-type farms. It also lends money to farmers or their non-profit associations to establish and carry on approved soil and water conservation practices. Purposes include establishing and improving permanent pastures, terracing, soil erosion practices, and many other conservation measures.

Before the agency can make any loan, the applicant must have the approval of the County Committee. In case of a Farm Ownership loan, the farm must also be appraised. The agency does not make a loan of any type to an applicant whose credit needs can be handled by other credit sources.

Benjamin A. Curtis, Jr., is the County Supervisor for Androscoggin and Oxford Counties. His office is located in the Masonic Building in South Paris.

Having the largest 4-H memberships were Knox-Lincoln, Penobscot, Northern Aroostook, Androscoggin-Sagadahoc, Oxford and Somerset.

HONORS ROSE . . . Mrs. Edward Milholland, Jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y., (right), national chairman of "Rose for America" committee, given Maine's Sen. Margaret Chase Smith postumous signed by 25,000 making rose be named national flower.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

It is perhaps time for Bethel people to begin thinking about "Town Ordinances." Assuming the Village Corporation is taken over by the Town, we will then have no local regulations.

Do the voters of Bethel want parking regulations?

Do you want any type of residential or commercial restrictions?

In order to keep up the new property records (that will be on file at the completion of the Revaluation program) building permits for new construction and major improvements will be a real help to the future assessments.

Written suggestions as to your opinions as to Ordinances submitted to the Town Office will be appreciated.

O. T. Rozelle

888 LESSONS HAVE BEEN GIVEN AT SWIMMING CLASSES

As swimming lessons enter the fourth week, a total of 888 lessons have been given to the students enrolled in classes. We have been most fortunate in having fair weather every day, and hope that the next three weeks will be as favorable.

Beginners who have earned their certificates already are as follows: Dwight Lord, Deborah Howe, Jill Orton, Norma Jean Kimball, Don Bush, and James Davis. These students will enter the Intermediate Class and work on more advanced strokes.

There are some who have questioned the methods of teaching swimming, asking why the instructor does not go into the water and show the strokes. Such a method has been tried and found inefficient. Anyone doubting this is at liberty to disprove it.

WHITMUM CALLS FOR TRACTOR SAFETY ON HIGHWAY

"Safety is called for when Maine farmers use tractors and other farm equipment on the highways," noted today Ralph B Whitmum, agricultural editor of the Lewiston Daily Sun. Whitmum is state chairman of National Farm Safety Week July 24 to 30 and is a member of the Maine Farm and Home Safety Council.

Farm tractor drivers should be able to see 700 feet in either direction when they approach the highway from the farm road or driveway. This means trimming back the hedges and removing other obstructions to their view of the highway. Also, farmers should wait for the highway to clear before entering.

Tractor drivers should obey "stop" signs. Also, they should remember that it takes longer to start up and get onto or across the highway than with some vehicles. This means allowing plenty of time.

Whitmum suggests using warning red flags to show motorists the width of wide equipment on the roadbed. Traveling partly on the shoulder insures the other lane of traffic its fair share of the road.

Tractor drivers should always signify to oncoming traffic their intention of turning. However, they shouldn't stand up unless it's absolutely necessary to make their arms seen over following equipment. If traffic is close behind, it's often better to wait until it thins a little before turning.

The Farm Safety Week chairman advises against trying to trail a long string of farm equipment on or across the highway. Oncoming motor vehicles frequently fail to realize how slowly this equipment is moving in relation to their own speed. Even if the tractor driver has the right of way, that doesn't help much to mend broken bones or damaged machinery.

An ordinary bolt or pin makes a poor hitch for a trailer travelling on the highway, points out Whitmum. Such a trailer may break away and cause an accident. Safety-type hitch pins which cannot break loose should be used. Even safer is a short length of chain to keep the rigging together should the pin break.

Drivers of slow-moving vehicles on the highway will find a red flag hoisted high atop a fish pole or other pole may warn a driver coming over a sharp dip in the road in time to save an accident.

Finally, Whitmum explained that traveling on the highway after dark with a tractor with or without trailing equipment is dangerous business. Many times it's hard to tell whether the equipment is coming or going. Many new tractors are equipped with a combination rear lamp and tail light that can be switched from red to white. Safety tape strips of reflective material are also available. In some areas Future Farmers of America chapters are selling such strips to farmers to attach to all their equipment which may be on the highway after dark.

STATE POLICE SAY COURTESY BEST RULE OF THE ROAD

"An aggressively independent attitude on the part of a driver is almost certain to lead him into an accident eventually," our State Police observed today.

They pointed out that each driver must share the road with other drivers and pedestrians and that, if he is too insistent upon his rights or if he drives with a chip on his shoulder most of the time, he is inviting serious trouble.

"Make courtesy your code of the road," they urged. "You'll find that your trip is over, and you'll have a much better time en route. It may surprise you to discover," they added, "that other drivers will return your courtesy almost every time."

"The application of common courtesy to traffic situations," they concluded, "will prevent many accidents."

The Farm Safety Week chairman advises against trying to trail a long string of farm equipment on or across the highway. THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, July 21

Read Matthew 13:44-46.
Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls; who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it. (Matthew 13:45, 46.)

A NY real jewel is expensive because jewels are rare. There are many imitations, some so good that they are sometimes mistaken for the real thing. Even the best imitation is still an imitation, and therefore cheap in comparison with a real stone.

As a young man, Jesus was shown all the kingdoms of this world but would not take them as His own possession on the basis offered. He knew them to be imitation stones. Instead, He chose the "pearl of great price," the Kingdom not of this world.*

In order to have "the pearl," He had to forsake all else; the devil's offer of power, the Jews' desire to crown Him king, His own life.

We, likewise, have to dispose of all those things which are, in God's sight, of little value in order to obtain the "pearl of great price"—the kingdom. We cannot possess the kingdom for less than the full price—love for God and love for our neighbors as ourselves.

Prayer

Eternal Father, help us to give up all else that we may obtain the pearl of great price whose value never decreases in time or in eternity.

In Christ's name and for His sake we seek this pearl. Amen.

At a meeting of the Vacation

July 18, 1955

The Will to Believe
Inherent in all peoples of the earth, whether Gentile or Jew, black or white, bond or free, is a certain credulity which overshadows the simpler, more material facts of existence, and to which we pin our frail hopes and latent sorrows. It is the will to believe, the faith in something or someone greater than ourselves, the light by which we navigate our bark upon the sea of life and gain the shore securely. And as many as the stars that shine, are the beliefs of men.

The light that glows across the expanse of humanity has more than once become a feeble ray, but for those whose faith remains intact from year to year, it shines with undimmed splendor. It is a beacon in every storm, and will be an everlasting light to them that believe.

I am sure that if it were not for something to cling to, very few of us would ever be able to stand up before the shantries and tithe of war's earthly existence, as has been the case with so many, for whom the effort has proved too great. Thus our great need for something on which we can depend and to which we can look in times of trouble. And this should not be a blind belief, a unconscious wavering between the false and the true, an illusory transmuted fancy to another which has become stale and tasteless in the handling.

The average width of a tornado path is 1,200 feet; average length of path, 16 miles.

Industrial research claims to have developed an adhesive so strong that a thin smear near the site of a quarter would support an automobile hanging from the ceiling.

The belief that carelessness and speed cause highway casualties are reflected in statistics showing that three out of four traffic accidents happen in clear weather on dry roads.

U. S. farmers are discovering that crop dryers are an indispensable implement to successful farming.

Rather should we clearly determine what we believe, and having thus determined, we should strengthen our beliefs and by this strength will come success and peace, and all the worthwhile attributes which are the outcome of a stupendous trust in the good and true.

Then take your faith and mold it. Into something pure and fine, steer your bark with steady hand, and for you its light will shine.

4-H'ers Eliminate "Accident Havens"

How many hazards can you find?*

SAFETY, a crop to be harvested on every farm and in every home, is receiving special attention from more than one-half million 4-H Club members taking part in the 1955 National 4-H Safety Program.

As a part of their 4-H Club work, members in all 48 states are correcting hazards as those seen in the above drawing. They are attempting to reduce the Nation's annual farm toll of 14,500 lives, 1,250,000 injuries, and an economic loss of about a billion dollars.

4-H'ers, working as individuals or in groups through their local clubs, conduct surveys to locate hazards, then correct the unsafe conditions. They give demonstrations on hundreds of topics pertaining to farm, home and highway safety. Members present talks before group meetings and over radio and television; put displays in store windows; and build booths at fairs.

*In the drawing there are more than 45 accident hazards or unsafe practices shown. Don't let them occur on your farm or in your home.

SAFETY, a crop to be harvested on every farm and in every home, is receiving special attention from more than one-half million 4-H Club members taking part in the 1955 National 4-H Safety Program.

To assist the Cooperative Extension Service in conducting the 4-H Safety Program, General Motors has just published a new "4-H Safety Handbook for Local Leaders," which provides how-to-do-it ideas for carrying out successful safety programs.

Copies of the manual will be distributed to volunteer 4-H leaders through County Extension Offices.

In addition, GM provides incentives in the National 4-H Safety Awards program which is arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Medals are made available to four county winners; an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago is given to the state winner; and $300 college scholarships are presented to eight national winners.

Here is a common sense rule that can help us to determine the speed at which we should drive: Our State Police tell us that we are probably driving too fast if we are passing many cars...too slowly, if many cars are passing us. If possible let's drive with traffic.

FARMING IS DANGEROUS BUSINESS, SAYS SAFETY COUNCIL

Farming in Maine is a dangerous business no matter how you look at it, says the Maine Farm and Home Safety Council. Farming accounts for more fatal accidents than any other single occupation. In addition, there are about 85 serious injuries for every fatality on the farm. One fatality in every 10 on the farm involves a youngster under five years old.

The Farm and Home Safety Council was organized this past winter to help Maine farm people correct and remove hazards that might result in accidents. Also, following safe practices and "thinking safety" day and night will help cut Maine's high accident toll.

Secondly, don't operate machinery without proper guards on shafting, gear belts, and other moving parts. And never lubricate a machine while it's running, points out Lord.

Also, don't hitch the load to anything but the drawbar of the tractor. And, finally, don't operate the tractor at high speeds.

Those are suggestions for Farm Safety Week from your Maine Farm and Home Safety Council.

George E. Lord, of Orono, associate director of the Extension Service of the University of Maine, is chairman of the Farm and Home Safety Council. Representatives of all the Maine rural organizations agencies make up its membership.

Five "don'ts" for machinery safety are listed by Lord. They include, first, not allowing anyone but the driver on the tractor. Be especially careful not to let children ride a moving tractor. One fatality in every 10 on the farm involves a youngster under five years old.

WORTH REPEATING

"We believe that both labor and management should look for ways and means to assure workers of steady jobs with growing incomes. But no plan that curbs the dynamism of American industry should be considered. This spirit is the essence of our success as a nation. It is this spirit that must be preserved and fostered in planning a guaranteed annual wage, or any reasonable facsimile thereof." — Business Week.

"Joining a political club and helping to bring out the vote would enlarge many persons' vision amazingly. After they had experienced the difficulties of office, they might be less critical of the incumbents. Or they might be more so, as they came to learn how simply some procedures might be bettered. At least they would learn some of the practical hows and whys of government." — Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) Times-Leader.

"We have had ten years of great progress. We are doing pretty well today. But nothing like what we will be doing ten years from now. It's not at all too wild a dream to talk of a 500-billion-dollar gross national product, or about a richer, fuller, more secure life for all Americans in 1965. Nothing less than catastrophe will stop us from achieving these things." — Henry Ford, 2nd, president, Ford Motor Company.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Bassett, Va., Henry County Journal: "Ours is a profit and loss system. Any time the possibility of loss is eliminated you can be as certain that the system has been destroyed as you could be if the opportunity for profit were no longer available."

Now Holstein, Wis., Reporter: "During the conflict between Joseph Stalin and Leon Trotsky for control of the Communist machine in Russia in 1924, a blueprint of world conquest was drafted by the Stalinites. Stalin wrested control from Trotsky and later had him murdered. This blueprint of conquest, according to Dr. Fred Schwarz, the noted Australian scholar on Communism, calls for the conquering of Asia first, then Africa, then Western Europe, then 'to isolate, degenerate, and if necessary, devastate the U. S.'"

Boothbay, Me., Register: "Suppose that each of us was assessed in one lump sum the same amount we now pay in hidden taxes. This lump sum would have a pretty sobering effect, and those of us who clamor for more and more government services and subsidies would be likely to revise our thinking considerably....The inescapable fact is...that the people have to pay for what their government spends. The amount they pay is going to be the same, whether it is taken from them a cent at a time or in one fat, fearful sum."

EASTERN STATES PRIZE LIST NOW AVAILABLE

Nearly $50,000 in cash premiums plus trophies valued in excess of $10,000 will be awarded livestock competitors at the 1955 Eastern States Exposition which this year will operate September 17-25, according to Exposition General Manager Jack Reynolds.

Reynolds said that $47,000 in cash will be paid out to persons exhibiting cattle, sheep, horses, and poultry at the annual nine day Exposition. The West Springfield fair is the largest livestock show east of Chicago. Trophies worth more than $10,000 will also be awarded.

The Expositions livestock prize list has just been released and is available to interested persons at no charge. Just drop a card or letter to: Livestock Committee, Eastern States Exposition, West Springfield, Massachusetts.

FARMERS WARNED TO WATCH FOR ARMYWORMS

Maine farmers and property owners are warned to be on the lookout for armyworms this week. Some have been found on an oat field in York County, but it's impossible to guess whether or not they'll create a serious infestation in Maine this year. Heptachlor, aldrin, chlordane, or DDT may be used, following directions from the county agent or those on the container. As with most insects, control is easiest when the armyworms are small.

CORN BORER TO ARRIVE EARLIER THAN USUAL

A very unwelcome guest, the European corn borer, may reach Maine cornfields earlier than usual this year, says Dr. John Hawking of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station. First applications of DDT or Ryania should be made when corn is in the late whorl or early tassel stage if signs of borer larvae are present. Later treatments at five-day intervals are often needed. Your county agent has details.

A Tribute: MRS. TENA THURSTON

Although reports of the passing of Mrs. Howard Thurston with fitting tributes have appeared in The Citizen, perhaps a few lines from one who from childhood knew and loved her will not be amiss.

Born in the foothills of the rugged mountains which enclose the care of two children meant long hours of labor. However, her devoted care for her family never suffered and her devotion has been reciprocated by her children who have affectionately ministered to her needs in her declining years.

Mrs. Thurston was a foster mother to a third child who shared the home for many years before she became the wife of Wade Thurston. As long as she lived she was gratefully appreciative for "Aunt Tena's" loving guidance.

Aunt Tena did not grow old only a month before her passing she told the writer that she hoped to "be able to ride over at least."

The earlier years of her married life were indeed busy ones. Mrs. Newry and the Thurston home served as a boarding house for several of the employees. The cooking and general housework plus the care of two children meant long hours of labor. However, her devoted care for her family never suffered and her devotion has been reciprocated by her children who have affectionately ministered to her needs in her declining years.

Mrs. Thurston was a foster mother to a third child who shared the home for many years before she became the wife of Wade Thurston. As long as she lived she was gratefully appreciative for "Aunt Tena's" loving guidance.

Aunt Tena did not grow old physically or mentally. Her trim little figure, her alert step and general youthful appearance were frequently noted on the street after she had reached her four score years. Mentally she remained true to her philosophy of life, ever looking forward with undaunted courage and cheerful optimism which characterized her long well-lived life. Her faith and trust in her heavenly Father kept her young.

It is not a trite saying but a genuinely true one when we say of Aunt Tena, "To know her was to love her."

The "Thunder Bird" totem pole at the Canadian National Railways station at Jasper, Alta., is not only of great age, but is one of the tallest totem poles in existence. The giant colorful pole, 60 feet high, was brought to Jasper from the Queen Charlotte Islands where it was hand-carved by the "Masset-Inlet-Town" people. According to the Indians, the mythical bird has the power to produce thunder and lightning. H.J.

BEAR RIVER GRANGE

Bear River Grange met at their hall, July 16, with our W. M. George Stearns in the chair. This was to be "Safety Nitro" but "Smoky the Bear's" Dad was suddenly taken ill so "Smoky" could not be with us so "Safety Nitro" will be at a later date. There were yards of discussion as to what would be done at the Newry Sesquicentennial July 23. Don't miss it under any conditions. On account of the heat only a small number were out but it was very nice meeting. Our Lecturer got up a very good "hurry up" program so all in all it was very much worth going to. Refreshments were served after the meeting of assortments sandwiches, cakes and cold punch. Next meeting will be July 23 and if ever you go to Grange don't fall that night.

ANNOUNCEMENT*Relative To Fire Insurance Rate Adjustments

We wish to make a public statement clarifying the recent newspaper announcement of adjustments in Fire Insurance rates in the State of Maine.

The rates which practically every insurance agent charges are established by the New England Fire Insurance Rating Association and approved by the Insurance Commissioner of the State of Maine. The rate adjustments recently announced have the approval of the Insurance Commissioner and carry reductions in rate on certain dwelling, mercantile and manufacturing risks. However, there are some exceptions so that we can not promise reductions for all types of property. We fully intend to make any and all reductions and refunds to our customers on those policies which qualify.

These new rates and adjustments were effective June 13, 1955. Furthermore, policies effective on or after April 30, 1955 will be adjusted on a Pro Rata basis as of June 13, 1955.

These reduced rates are now being used by us and refunds on qualifying policies will be made as time will permit.

BETHEL MIDGET BALL CLUBS

Bethel Braves Lose to

Bethel Red Sox

The Bethel Braves, playing better ball all the time, held the Bethel Red Sox in check for a while, but the Sox finally outplayed them for an easy win. Both teams showed the good sportsmanship Bethel and Richard Saunders for keeping score for Bob Mills. It was a big help as Bob could follow the game better and help the boys.

Braves Win Exhibition

Game Tuesday

The Bethel Braves showed lots of spirit and fight to take a close 7-6 decision from Lovell. Although not in the league, Lovell has a fine team. Wayne Perry pitched fine game, showing good control. All the boys played "heads up" ball, and got the big hits when needed. Linnell Felt, Orlando Frazer, and Charlie Newell led the attack with triples a piece. The Braves would like to thank Nelson Smith, one of the Red Sox players, for filling the gap at short-stop. He did a fine job for us. The Braves substitutes played most of the game, and showed much promise for another year.

BRYANT POND 12-BETHEL 10

Bethel blew 10-2 lead and lost

12-10 in a game played at Bryant Pond last Friday evening.

Bethel tallied twice in the third inning and added in the fifth before breaking loose with seven in the top of the sixth. The visitors appeared to have the game salted away at that point with a 10-2 lead.

Bryant Pond had tallied twice in the last of the fourth, before scoring 10 big runs in the last of the sixth to win the contest.

Red Sox 10 0 3 1-16

Bryant Pond 0 1 0 3 1-5

Friday night a small group of loyal fans saw the Red Sox blast out 14 hits to overtake and down a scrappy Oxford ball club.
